

Reduce Disaster Suffering

David I. Maurstad

Deputy Associate Administrator, Resilience

FEMA

Hurricane Ian, 2022

Hurricane Fiona, 2022

Hurricane Harvey, 2017

FEMA's Resilience Organization

Mission

Resilience prepares communities, reduces suffering, and speeds recovery.

Vision

A resilient Nation where communities are prepared for today's risks and emerge stronger for tomorrow.

FEMA

Equity in FEMA's Programs

Highlights:

- FEMA's Equity Action Plan
- Biden Administration's Justice40 Initiative
- Changes to Benefit-Cost Analysis (BCA) Requirements
- Increasing Accessibility with "People-First" Approach

FEMA

Federal Emergency Management Agency

Risk Rating 2.0: Equity in Action

Where it Can Rain

It Can Flood

Floods are becoming more frequent and severe.

Keeping your flood insurance policy active is now more important than ever.

FEMA's new flood insurance pricing system better informs all policyholders about the reality of increasing flood risk, so you can protect the home and life you've built.

Speak with your insurance provider today to understand how this change might affect your policy, and if your property qualifies for any premium discounts.

FEMA NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM

Moving Forward:

- More Agents
- New Policies
- Retention

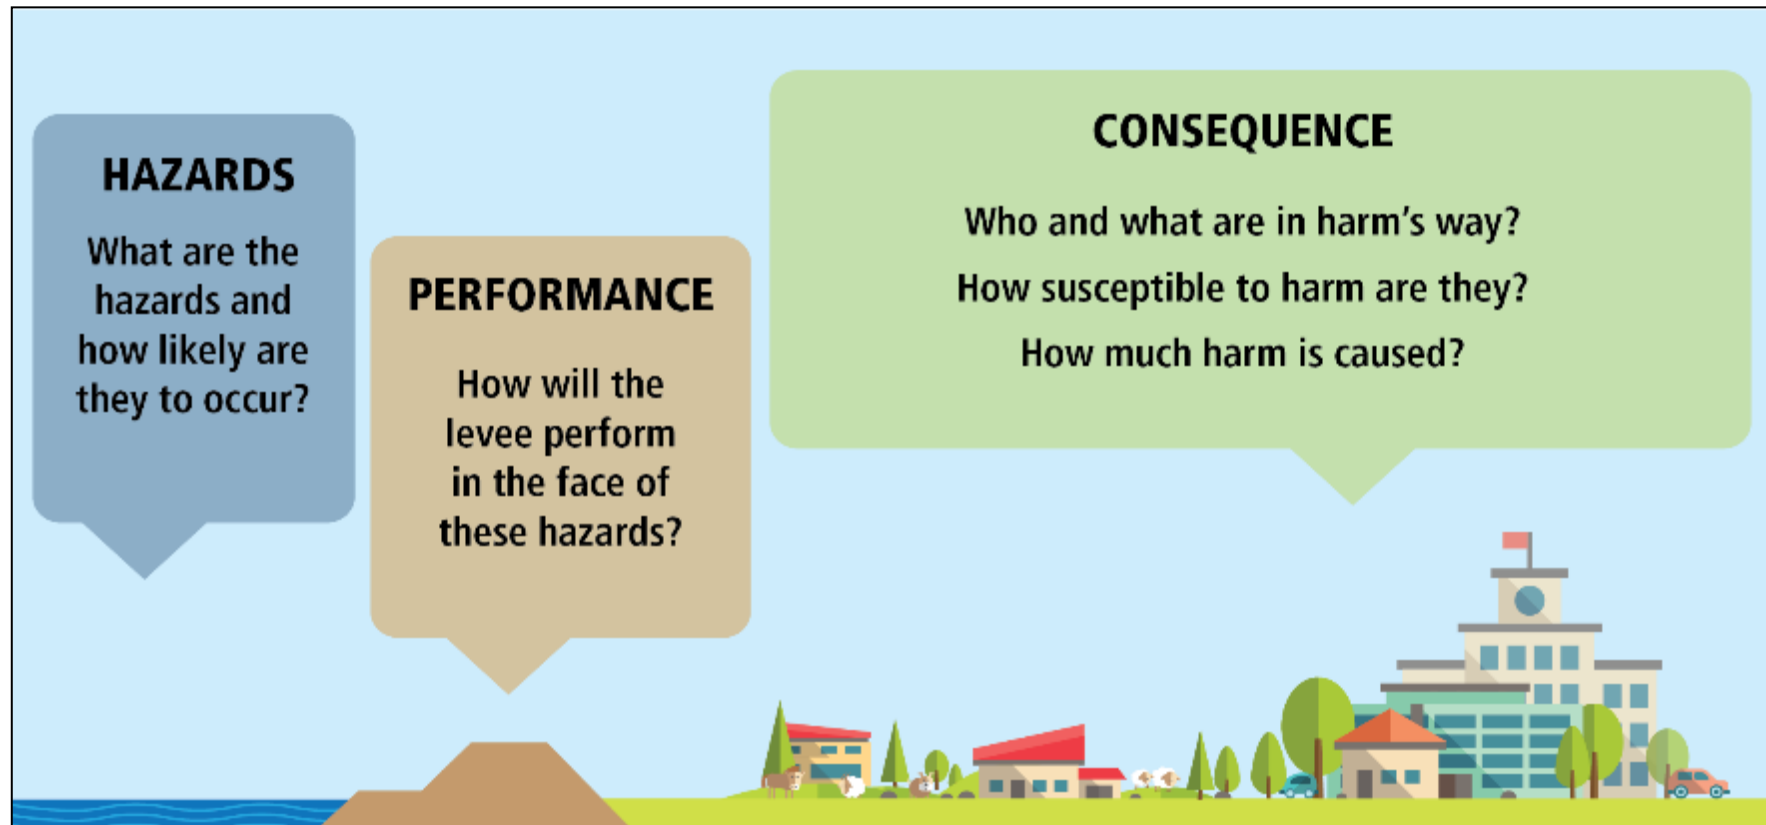

FEMA

Risk Rating 2.0 and Levees

FEMA

Levee Risk

FEMA

National Levee Database

To provide updated data or new information to non-federal levees....

- Email nld@usace.army.mil
- Call 1-877-LEVVEUS
- Submit request through Data Change Request link (on individual levee's page) in the National Levee Database

(<https://levees.sec.usace.army.mil/#/>)

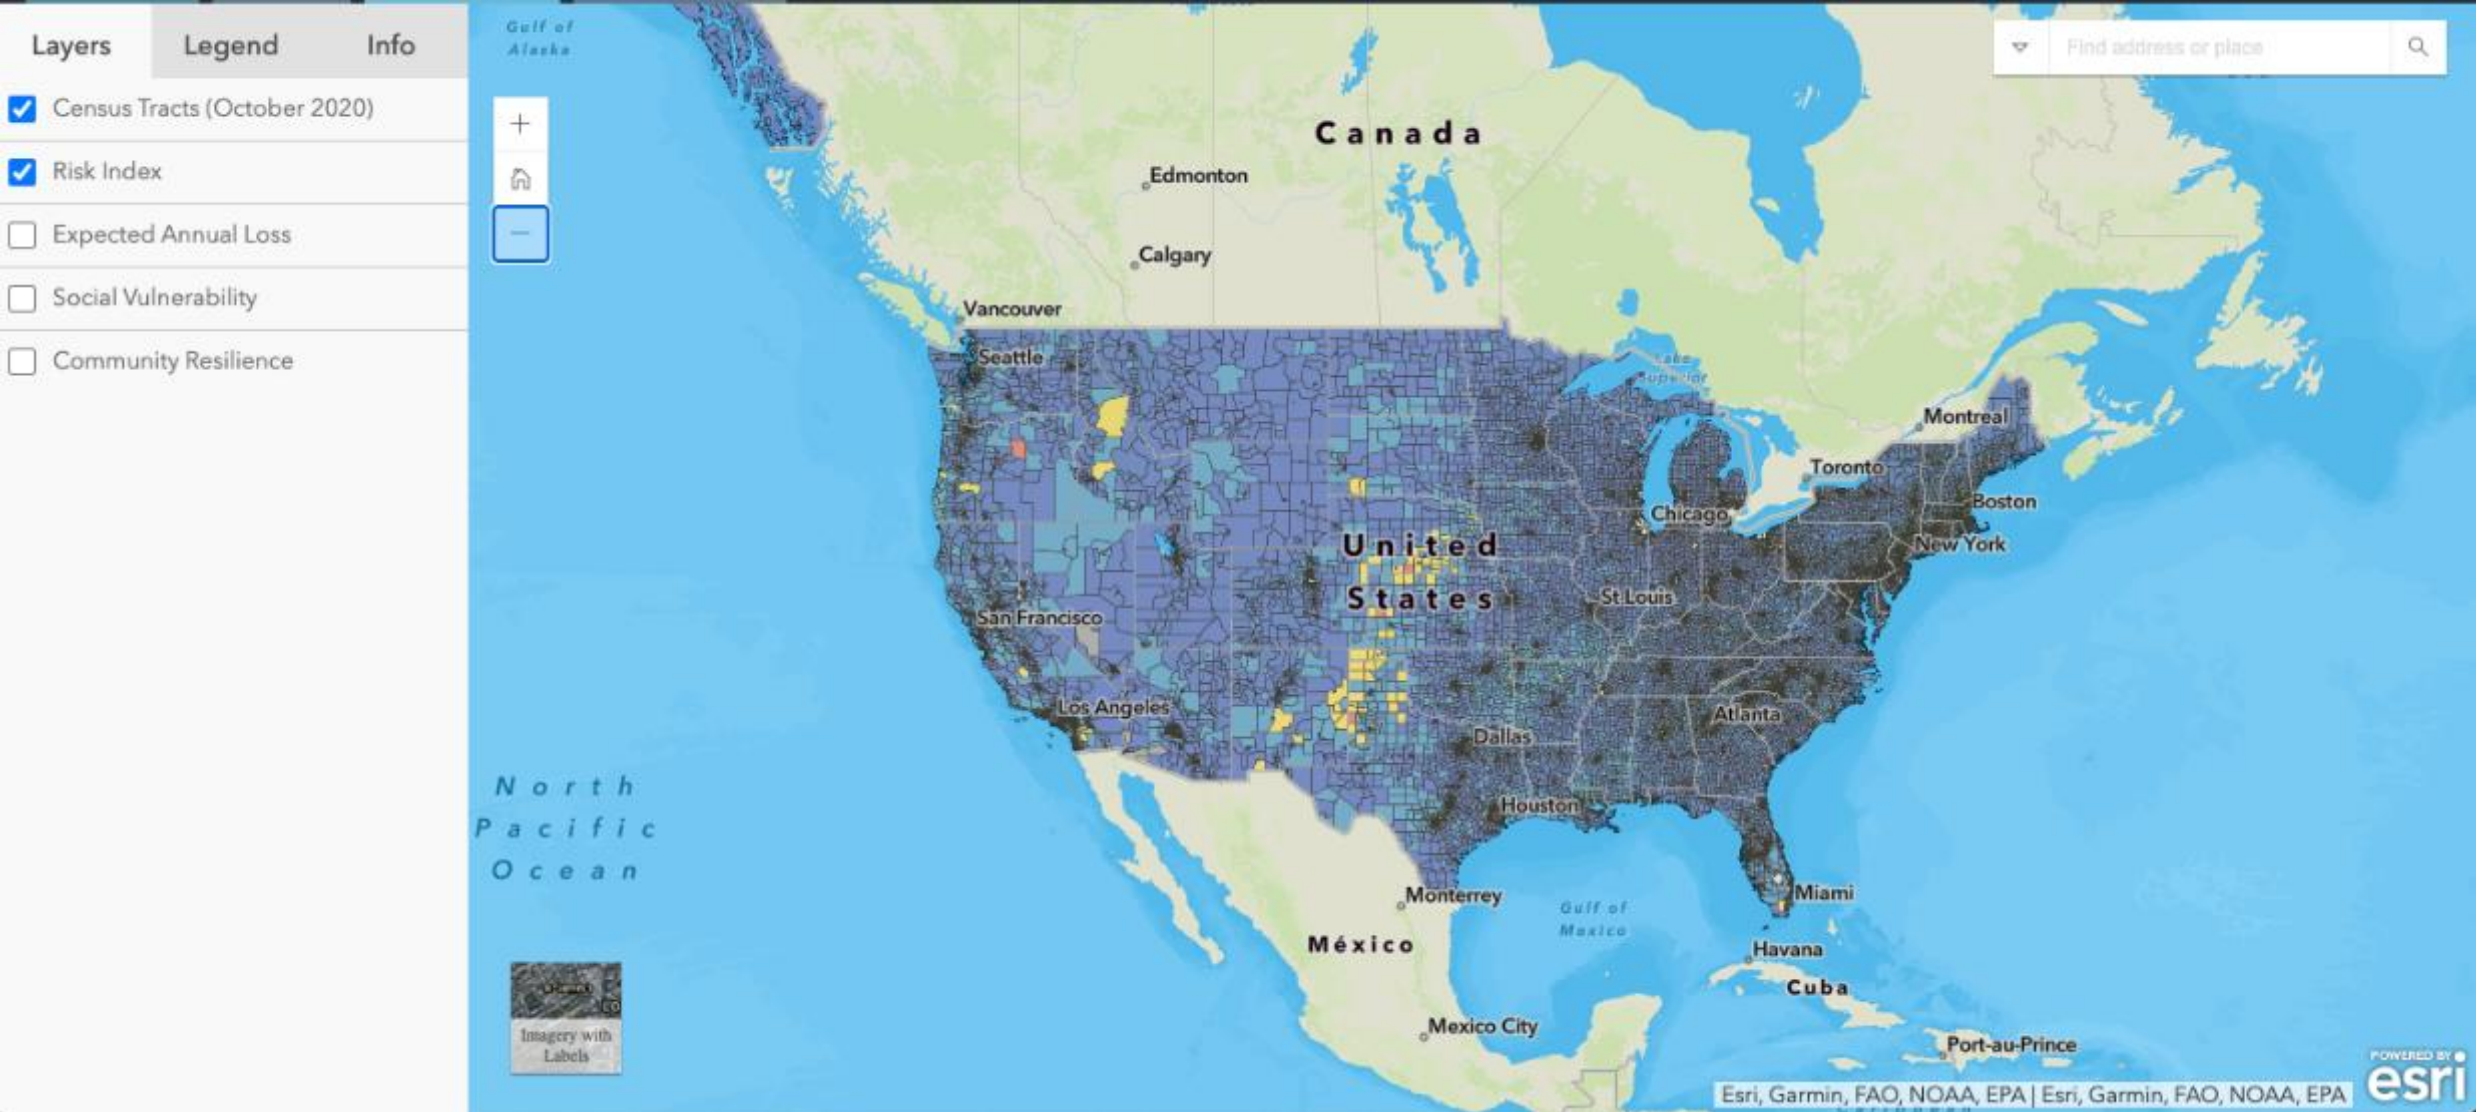

To provide updated data or new information to non-federal levees....

- Contact local USACE District

FEMA

National Risk Index

We Can't Do It Alone: Opportunities for Partnership

- Mitigation planning
- Local floodplain management efforts
- Cooperating Technical Partners

FEMA

Rulemaking and the NFIP

Risk Rating 2.0: Equity in Action

- The NFIP has statutory authority to set rates

NFIP Minimum Standards

- RFI released October 2021
- Comment period extended until January 2022
- Currently analyzing 400+ comments

FEMA

Houston, TX